RIFA Application Checklist

Use the 2018 RIFA Catalog to determine which projects you would like to apply for, three projects maximum.
You may contact the project's key contact (or other contacts) for more information, but it is not required before applying.
<ul> <li>Questions you may want to know from host organizations before applying:</li> <li>Flexibility in length or timing of fellowship</li> <li>Location of fellowship and work environment</li> <li>Expectations for deliverables/final products</li> <li>Flexibility in language requirements</li> <li>Additional funding needs, in-kind support provided</li> </ul>
If a project you are interested in does not have a UC Faculty/Staff Counterpart (Mentor), you must find a RIFA mentor – meaning you must identify and confirm a UC faculty or staff will act as your mentor. Use the 'Find a RIFA Mentor' guide for helpful tips and a one-pager to give to possible mentors.
Submit a completed RIFA application, your CV/resume and a statement of interest (one for each project) to ucrifa.applications@gmail.com .
If you do not hear from a host organization you applied to by March 9, email ucrifa.applications@gmail.com .
